"The Cavendish Square resources have been a strong component of our district's Inquiry practices. These in-depth resources—which were historically found in specialized encyclopedias in a large reference library, and offer resources for teachers that enrich and reinforce classroom activities and instruction—are deeply aligned with the curriculum. The updated format also provides content for students in multiple languages and an option for text-to-speech, while being well illustrated with beautiful images."

"The books are presented as double page view just as a paper book will be viewed when held. And the succeeding pages are viewed by scrolling down rather than clicking forward. This allows much greater visual acuity and opportunities for understanding. The comments I have received from teachers regarding the ease of use and applicability for students at grade level, below grade level, and those requiring resources for differentiated learners with various disabilities have been beyond positive. epointplus has hit it out of the ballpark."
